

Verdict Against Secretary Ballinger to Be Set Aside.

MADISON SUPPORTS VIEW

Agrees With Republicans That Action Is Not Final.

RIGHT TO BREAK QUORUM

Representative McCall Defends the Propriety of His Course—Public to Have Findings.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., September 8.—Representative E. H. Madison of Kansas, insurgent republican, who joined the four democratic members of the Ballinger-Pinchot committee in voting Secretary Ballinger out of office, does not intend the vote will stand as the committee's final majority verdict.

"Final action has not been taken," he said last night. "No report has been adopted and a majority vote, of course, if it comes, reverses today's action."

Representatives James and Graham and other democratic members maintain that a quorum was present, despite the fact that Senator Nelson, republican, chairman of the committee, had stated in the meeting that there was no quorum. During the session no member had raised the point of no quorum and Representative James contends that the adoption of the resolution has the effect of expressing the view of a majority.

Only five members voted.

But five of the twelve members of the committee voted for the adoption of the resolution, which was offered by Representative Madison as a substitute for the one previously presented by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher (democrat) of Florida.

When the committee met there were eight members present. Senator George Sutherland, republican of Utah, and Representative Samuel W. McCall, republican, Massachusetts, withdrew. Chairman Nelson remained, but took no part in the voting.

The republicans assert that the withdrawal of Messrs. Sutherland and McCall broke the quorum. The democrats, however, maintain that the resolution adopted yesterday is believed to be along the line of the minority report, which is being prepared for presentation, possibly at the meeting Friday. The members at the meeting yesterday decided that the committee should make public at the session here, along with the majority findings, and given to the public immediately. Representative Madison is reporting an independent minority report, which, it is said, will sustain the course of Gifford Pinchot.

Resolution as Adopted.

The resolution as offered by Mr. Madison and adopted is as follows:

"That the charges made by L. R. Glavis against Secretary Ballinger should be referred to the committee on the disposition of the Cunningham case, and that the committee should report thereon to the House of Representatives."

"That the charges made by Mr. Pinchot against Secretary Ballinger should be referred to the committee on the Department of the Interior, and that the committee should report thereon to the House of Representatives."

The matter of the Cunningham case has been referred to the committee on the Department of the Interior, and the matter of the Pinchot case has been referred to the committee on the Department of the Interior. The committee on the Department of the Interior is composed of Messrs. Sutherland, Nelson, and McCall. The committee on the Department of the Interior is composed of Messrs. Sutherland, Nelson, and McCall.

Madison Makes Statement.

Mr. Madison last night gave out the following statement:

"When the committee met and was called to order, Senator Sutherland offered his resolution. I immediately offered mine as a substitute for it. Objection was made to the consideration of the resolutions, owing to the absence of members of the committee."

"I then presided at a discussion as to whether or not a report should be made at this time and, if so, whether or not it should be published. I made a motion to the effect that it was the sense of the committee that whatever reports were made should be made public."

"Mr. James moved to amend to the effect that a report should be made at this sitting of the committee at Minneapolis. I carried the amendment."

"On a roll call Senators Nelson and Sutherland and Mr. McCall voted 'present' and Mr. Madison voted 'absent'."

"Before the vote was taken Senator Sutherland and Mr. McCall withdrew. Of course final action has not been taken, no report has been adopted and a majority vote, of course, if it comes, reverses today's action."

Motion to Recess Lost.

One of the leading republican senators on the committee said:

"When the committee met this morning there were but eight of the twelve members present. In view of the importance of the subject of the investigation, the republican members felt, in view of the fact that Mr. Denby and Mr. Olmsted were absent, that an adjournment should be taken until next Friday to give them an opportunity to be here.

"A motion was made to adjourn until Friday, but the motion failed by a vote of 12 to 8."

"The republican members of the committee under the circumstances felt that it was unfair and unjust to proceed with the case when only eight members were present."

"After there was a reference to adjournment, Senator Sutherland and Representative McCall retired from the room, leaving only six present—less than a quorum."

Gives Them Ample Rope.

"The chairman of the committee, after Senator Sutherland and Representative McCall had retired, could have justly said that a quorum was not present and the only motion in order was a motion to adjourn. He felt, however, that under the circumstances and inasmuch as the five members were so anxious to have their views expressed in that way that it was the best to give them a full opportunity and ample rope in order to show the animus of which they were possessed."

"It is well known in parliamentary law that when a quorum is not present in business except adjournment can be transacted."

Senator Sutherland of Utah (republican), in his statement, referred to the absence of Representatives Denby and Olmsted and Senator Root.

"In view of the fact that the issues involved were of the utmost gravity and that the committee had never met for a single moment's deliberation upon the case, I felt that fairness and propriety demanded that we should do no less than await the coming of these members before making a final decision. I was, therefore, when a member of the committee this morning offered a series of resolutions constituting a final determination and moved the adoption thereof."

Terms Action Absurd.

"A motion was made to adjourn until Friday morning, but this motion was lost. Mr. McCall and myself then left the meeting, and those remaining, consisting of less than a quorum, proceeded to dispose of the case, which was somewhat absurd result that five members of an official body of twelve have undertaken to render final judgment and then themselves adjourned until Friday, the day for which we had asked in the beginning."

Mr. Sutherland said that any anxiety to turn the inquiry to partisan advantage was peculiarly out of place.

The finding of a bare majority of eight members of the committee would be a finding by a minority of the whole committee, and when rendered with haste or without due deliberation, such a disposition of so grave a matter as will be likely to commend itself to the judgment or sense of fairness of thinking people."

Mr. McCall's Position.

Representative McCall of Massachusetts (republican) said the members of the committee were present, two are now on their way to Minneapolis and another, Senator Root, only yesterday returned from Europe. The case is one of great importance, and he is taking up many of our time and without intending to reflect upon any of my colleagues, it certainly did not seem wise to proceed with the inquiry of justice to have a decision forced today and possibly by a minority of the committee. It was simply the fact that the members on their way to Minneapolis might reach here and participate in the decision."

"The committee adjourned about the 25th and 26th of June last, and came to Minneapolis September 5, prepared to dispose of the matter. Only seven members appeared Monday and Tuesday, and on Wednesday, the 8th, only one, Senator Purcell, arrived on that day."

In a spirit of fairness I voted to take a recess until this morning to give two other members time to reach this city. It was stated these two had wired that they would arrive here tomorrow. We asked for an assurance that by Friday those members present would consent to take the matter up and report and that it should be released for the benefit of the public, but I could not get such an assurance."

"No reason, even fairly satisfactory, has been given for the absence of two of the members. We waited three days for the absentees. Should we keep on waiting indefinitely? The gravity of the matter is such that sufficient reason for indefinite delay."

Ten Weeks of Deliberation.

"Almost ten weeks gave sufficient time to deliberate and decide on the matter, important as it is, and a charge that a desire for partisan advantage was the cause for action today might be fairly met by a suggestion that the delay sought was as likely to be for the purpose of gaining such advantage as for the consideration of a matter already fully considered."

"There was a quorum here and that was the sense of the committee. The question of public business in the ordinary way is a majority of a quorum."

Senator Dyer, U. S. senator, democrat, Florida, mentioned Senator Root's absence and also the fact that Representative Denby and Olmsted had not attended the first meeting.

"They doubtless have good reasons for not being on hand on the 5th," he said. "To ask such a committee to take a recess and have a good time of it, is not only not reasonable, but it is not fair to the members of the committee, who voted on the resolution this morning, offered and carried by a majority of the committee, to have the matter taken up again on a report or reports and make the same public upon conclusions being reached without waiting for the members of Congress, but only five members voted upon that question. I fail to see how it can be said that it was not to proceed as best we could."

Agreed on September 5.

Representative James of Kentucky (democrat) said:

"Some two and one-half months ago the hearing of testimony and arguments of counsel in this case were concluded. Many of us thought that the decision of the committee should be given to the public at that time, but it was not. It was not until Friday, when the committee asked for further time to consider it. An agreement was reached when the committee adjourned to meet in Minneapolis on September 8, for the purpose of making our findings upon the questions involved and giving them to the public."

"The statement was made to the gentlemen who left the committee room and refused to participate in the proceedings that we would agree to a further postponement until Friday, provided that we could be assured that on that day action would be taken upon the questions involved and given to the public. The gentleman refused to go on record to that effect or to give personal assurance that they would comply with this condition."

Obligated to Do Business.

"A quorum does business in every parliamentary body in the world. We are here at the government's expense, and I feel that we owe it to ourselves as well as to the country to do all circumstances that we shall proceed to business."

"Of course the gentlemen had the right to attempt to break a quorum and refuse to participate with the committee, although, throughout our deliberations on the case this was never before resorted to by any member of the committee.

Denby and Olmsted, who were certainly deserving of the attention and attendance of all members who have been present, were not here. We waited three days for the absentees. Should we keep on waiting indefinitely? The gravity of the matter is such that sufficient reason for indefinite delay."

Five Votes for Republicans.

Representative Edwin Denby of Michigan, one of the republican members of the committee, arrived today and will attend the executive session to be held tomorrow. Mr. Denby had been detained on account of Mr. Morgan's illness. Representative Mr. C. Olmsted, another republican member, is expected to be present tomorrow.

The presence of Messrs. Denby and Olmsted, however, will not prevent the giving the republicans five votes on any action that may be taken. There are four republican members of the committee. Senator Root of New York has not advised the committee, so far as known, whether he will attend. In any event, he could not reach Minneapolis in time for the meeting set for tomorrow. Without the aid of Mr. Denby and Olmsted, certain matters to be acted upon, providing Representative Madison assists the democrats.

What action would be taken respecting the resolution adopted yesterday by the committee? The committee is composed of Messrs. Sutherland, Nelson, and McCall, and only five members voted upon that question. I fail to see how it can be said that it was not to proceed as best we could."

Findings of Democrats.

The findings of the democrats, which will make about 2,000 words, were put in shape for possible presentation tomorrow. Their report is the joint work of Messrs. James, Graham, Fletcher and Purcell and a feature will be the section devoted to the fact that the committee was not to be exhaustively treated in the Cunningham case in Alaska. The report will also contain a statement of the Secretary's administration of the conservation service.

Representative Madison devoted a part of the day to the final preparation of an independent report. Denby, he said, expected to make a statement of 10,000 words. Mr. Madison would not discuss it in advance, but it is known to contain an elaborate defense of Mr. Pinchot.

The nature of the findings of the republicans was not divulged.
